For thus says the Lord, I will even touch this present government says the Lord, and I will clean that which concerns her, I will remove that which is unclean, I will remove that which is a pose of contention. I will bring peace that they will not rise with a spirit having a vindictive spirit towards other races but there will be an equality that you have never seen before.

I will swing it says the Lord; they will not just be black for blacks against the whites I will cause this proverb to cease. I will cause black for blacks to cease and white for whites to cease, this proverb will cease in this nation says the Lord, this proverb will cease in this nation says the Lord. For they will no longer consider according to black or white but they will begin to consider the development of a whole nation says the Lord. I will turn the heart of man and woman in this nation and I will cause the fear of God to be upon them. Some I will strike them and I will deal with them, some I will touch their children to soften their heart so that they will know that I am a God who is merciful.

They will not have a vindictive spirit, there will be says the Lord, I will raise them up in this government says the Lord, I will raise them up to have tenderness in their heart like Joseph's heart I will give to them so they will not look at their brothers, they will not look at the other races and begin to attack them for the past, for the past is over. What the devil meant for evil God is going to turn it to good, He is going to turn it to good, He is going to turn it to good.

For thus says the Lord that the sound of My voice will be heard in the parliament, the sound of My voice will be heard through men in high places. They will know the fear of God and they will not rise with bitterness in their heart but they will know all this will happen so that when they come into power they must include everybody in and God will give the spirit of Joseph, He will give the spirit of Cyrus so that they will share the resources, so that there will be equality, there will be development in this land.

For thus says the Lord, for this is a purpose for South Africa that out of South Africa will come forth the unity, out of South Africa will come forth the development that is not one sided, that is not just in one race but there will be equality so that there is justice, there is peace, there is righteousness prevailing in this nation.

Therefore the Lord will say even unto the Government of South Africa do not make the same mistakes those above you had made and your forefathers have made and others in the nations of Africa have made. Turn your eyes to Me and let My fear be in your heart for it is only by righteousness declares the Lord that the government of South Africa will be established. Let there be no corruption in your midst says the Lord, let there be no evil in your midst says the Lord, let there be no vindictive spirit inside your heart, but you will know the purpose of this nation, and you will hearken to the purpose of this nation. It was not just to be plundered for a while, it is not just to stay in power and eat up the seed for the next generation.

Therefore the Lord will say unto you, even the people of South Africa and the church of South Africa, do not be afraid for My hand is going to be upon this nation and I will guard the economy, I will guard the people, I will guard the help, I will guard the social system, I will guard the education system, and I will guard your sons and your daughters.

Do not fear in your heart because I will be their protection and I will watch until I bring about what I say to you and prophesied in your midst. Until the day that I will bring it about my hedge will be over your life and I will shield you and guard you and protect you so that no harm will come upon you until you see the salvation of the Lord. In that day your heart will rejoice for the Lord has spoken and He has done it exceedingly.
